

I beleive the new 60 meter amateur band should be limited to 200 watts pep, the lower 30% of the band should be set aside for CW and other digital modes, the other 70% for phone, and allow general through extra class hams to operate there.